This is a black and white architectural line drawing of a two-story residential building. The house features a gabled roof with a smaller gabled section on the left side, which appears to be a porch or an extension. The main body of the house has a large window on the right side, divided into two vertical panes. To the left of this window is a door with a small transom window above it. On the far left, there is a garage with a door that has a grid of small rectangular windows. The drawing includes several numbered callouts: 1 points to the main entrance door, 2 points to the steps leading to the entrance, 3 points to the steps leading to the garage, 4 points to the transom window above the main door, 5 points to the window above the main door, 6 points to the roofline of the main house, 7 points to the roofline of the porch/garage extension, 8 points to the side wall of the main house, 9 points to the corner of the porch/garage extension, and 10 points to the roofline of the porch/garage extension. A stamp is placed over the right side of the house, reading 'PRIMARIA MUNICIPAL CRISTINA' and '328'. There is also a handwritten signature or mark next to the stamp.
